

Must-see Painting Shows: February 2014

Posted: 02/03/2014 4:10 pm EST Updated: 02/06/2014 11:59 am EST

Steven Zevitas

Publisher, New American Paintings

Julije Knifer

Julije Knifer. Courtesy of Mitchell-Innes & Nash.

There are more than two dozen New American Paintings alumni on view this month, and some of our favorites are among them. Molly Zuckerman-Hartung opens a show of new work at Corbett vs. Dempsey in Chicago on February 7, just two months before she appears in the 2014 Whitney Biennial. Four extremely talented Los Angeles-based artists will have exhibitions in New York City this month: Sarah Cain at Galerie Lelong; Iva Gueorguieva at Ameringer|McEnery|Yohe; Frohawk Two Feathers at Morgan Lehman; and Lisa Sanditz at CRG Gallery (I should add that all four of these artists were featured in NAP early in their careers). If you are on the West Coast, then be sure to check out James Sterling Pitt at Gallery Paule Anglim in San Francisco and Patrick Wilson at Susanne Vielmetter in LA.