

Rendez-vous: the best of culture and arts in Europe

By Euronews • Updated: 20/01/2023 - 18:48

Courtesy of the artist & Sfeir-Semler Gallery Beirut/Hamburg

'Fun Feminism', Kunstmuseum Basel, Switzerland

Even in 2023, works by female artists are still underrepresented in the Kunstmuseum Basel collection in Switzerland.

Its new exhibition "Fun Feminism" presents some forty pieces, dating from the 1960s to the 1990s, as well as a selection of more recent works by contemporary Swiss and international artists. This includes Guerrilla Girls, Pipilotti Rist, Martha Rosler, and Rosemarie Trockel.

For more than half a century, artists, art historians, gallerists, collectors, and curators have been working to represent female perspectives in the visual arts within exhibition spaces, museums, publications, and archives.

This exhibition has chosen a feminist prism, deliberately irreverent and sometimes provocative, to break the stereotypes usually associated with women.