

The Top 11 Exhibitions To See In London: March 2023

Looking for an awesome London exhibition this March? Here's our roundup of must-see shows in the capital.

By Tabish Khan | 27 February, 2023

Copyright John Hammond.

Heavy metal: Anthony Caro at Pitzhanger

Here's a chance to see late masterful sculptor Anthony Caro's painted metal works in a stunning and historic setting. The exhibition explores Caro's innovative use of materials and forms, as well as his contribution to the evolution of modern sculpture. It includes several large-scale installations, including ones that feature steps and doors, and it's a unique opportunity to experience the beauty and depth of Caro's sculptures and how they crossed over into architecture.

Anthony Caro: The Inspiration of Architecture at Pitzhanger. 9 March-10 September, £9.90.