

MITCHELL-INNES & NASH

Reader's digest

Amazing exhibitions to see in 2023

Susan Gray | 16 January 2023

Looking for your next culture fix? Susan Gray explores the must-see exhibitions that need to be on your radar for the coming year.

Soutine-Kossoff, Hastings Contemporary, East Sussex

1 April – 24 September 2023

Leon Kossoff, Children's Swimming Pool, Autumn Afternoon, 1971 ©Tate

The first show to explore the relationship between Leon Kossoff, whose impasto (thickly applied paint) landscapes of post-war London are well known, and Paris trained artist Chaim Soutine. Kossoff discovered Soutine's work in the 1950s and was greatly influenced by it.

The two artists shared an Eastern European Jewish heritage, and both created transcendent works from the stuff of everyday life. Contains over 40 significant loans from collections in the UK and USA and beyond.